Term of the Day

Mutual Funds and Equity Investment

Definition: Mutual funds and equity investment refer to an investment method in which money collected from a large number of investors is pooled together and invested mainly in equity shares of companies through professionally managed mutual fund schemes. This allows investors to participate in the equity market indirectly and benefit from potential capital appreciation.

Explanation

Mutual funds act as an intermediary between investors and the equity market by pooling investors’ money and investing it in a diversified portfolio of equity shares. Investors purchase units of the mutual fund instead of individual stocks, gaining proportionate ownership of the fund’s investments. These funds are professionally managed by fund managers who analyze market conditions and company performance. Equity-oriented mutual funds invest across sectors and market capitalizations, reducing risk through diversification. They make equity investment accessible to small investors through options like Systematic Investment Plans (SIPs).
